Beverly Hills, CA – Beverly Hills Mayor Nancy Krasne has joined the delegation of U.S. mayors at the annual U.S. Conference of Mayors being held in Washington, D.C. The bipartisan group of nearly 200 mayors from around the country is to be addressed by President Barack Obama and several administration and congressional leaders including Treasury Secretary Timothy F. Geithner, Energy Secretary Steven Chu, Education Secretary Arne Duncan, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi and First Lady Michelle Obama.

The U.S. Conference of Mayors is the official nonpartisan organization of cities with populations of 30,000 or more. There are 1,203 such cities in the country today. The primary roles of The U.S. Conference of Mayors are to promote the development of effective national urban/suburban policy; strengthen federal-city relationships; ensure that federal policy meets urban needs; provide mayors with leadership and management tools; and create a forum in which mayors can share ideas and information.
