Rod Wood Named City Manager of the Year

Beverly Hills, CA – Rod Wood, former City Manager of Beverly Hills, has been named Outstanding City Manager of the Year by the California City Management Foundation (CCMF). Mr. Wood, who recently retired from the City of Beverly Hills after five years, is widely recognized throughout his profession for innovation and excellence over his 38-year career in local government.

Prior to his service to the City of Beverly Hills, Mr. Wood served as city manager of Novato and Indian Wells. He also served as a City Planner and Assistant City Manager with the City of Escondido. Mr. Wood has received many awards and published numerous articles on the subject of local government.

The mission of CCMF is to foster council-manager relations and the well being of city managers to ensure stable and successful communities.
